CHELSEA WETLANDS UPDATE

This Friday the Environmental documents and supporting special studies Appendices (Draft Initial Study and Mitigated Negative Declaration) for the upcoming implementation of the Chelsea Wetlands Restoration project will be available for review and comment on the City's website at <http://www.ci.hercules.ca.us/index.aspx?page=23&recordid=1529&returnURL=%2findex.aspx> . A Community field meeting will be held on August 8, 2016 at 5:00pm in the field at the corner of Railroad and Sante Fe Avenue to review the project and go over questions the community might have before Council reviews the information at a public hearing in September.

The proposed project will consist of restoring tidal marsh habitat, improving flood storage on lower Pinole Creek, and providing recreational opportunities along the existing Bay Trail. The tidal marsh restoration would be accomplished in phases through the excavation of approximately 40,000 cubic yards of fill previously deposited on the site and the installation of an improved box culvert and bridge structure, and removal of the existing 36" wide outflow flap gate culvert that connects to Pinole Creek. Approximately 140 linear feet of an existing 8" on-site sewer line would either be re-located into the east Pinole Creek channel bank or be lowered approximately 10 feet in order to accommodate the placement of the new tidal channel. The project also includes the temporary installation of sheet piling along the northern portion of Pinole Creek to isolate tidal waters from project work and the eventual removal of the sheet piling to allow tidal connection from Pinole Creek to the constructed tidal marsh complex. An 18" drain culvert will also be abandoned in place with a concrete plug end as necessary adjacent to the Bay Trail. A portion of an adjacent 2-acre marsh-upland transitional area owned by the Chelsea-by-the-Bay Homeowners Association (HOA) is incorporated into the design based on a Memorandum of Understanding agreement.

Construction is not anticipated until April 2017, but the review of the environmental documents is one of the last steps before finalizing permits with other outside agencies which would allow the project to move forward.
